

SCHOOL REVAMP MEET IN NEW LENOX

BUSINESS MEN ENTERTAIN BOYS
OF PATROL TO HEAR SERGEANTABOUT THIS
— AND —
ABOUT THAT

UNWELCOME. — AFL Teamsters union opposes receiving Europe's "displaced persons." Says, editorially, that they are undesirable—so much so that Argentina would accept only 1600, Peru 700, Venezuela only 350, and all other nations only 200. And if you are inclined to let your heart bleed for the "displaced persons" appeal to enter hundreds of thousands of them into the United States, remember this, from Teamster's journal: "This campaign is greased with seemingly unlimited funds. The Citizens Committee on Displaced Persons is one of the most lavish spending lobbies in Washington. IT MAINTAINS 23 LOBBYISTS DRAWING AS MUCH AS $1,000 PER MONTH" each (caps ours). It's a good thing to remember. We have enough poverty here; no need to buy more.

GOOD UNION.—The Teamsters union is one of the "better" unions, although it seems to believe, in some instances, that it is above the law. Point I want to make is, that as a good union, it is unwilling to admit that the other side may express a different viewpoint, stand for a principle, without being a low-down scoundrel. That's unfortunate. Unions would have even more support than they have if they would wage campaigns for justice, and not call names on anybody disagreeing with them.

SIMPLE AMERICAN.—An incident at a Washington airport a few days ago may explain why Mr. Truman still rinks him in straw polls. A sleepy-eyed photographer rushed to the plane as Mr. Truman was going aboard, and yelled, "Hey! Wait!" And Mr. Truman kept his party waiting 12 minutes while he gave the young man an opportunity to photograph him, even helping the fellow, who, flustered, forgot to insert his flash bulb. Yes, that's the kind of thing Americans like to see in men in high places. We were for O! so long!

CHRISTMAS.—One of the nice things about a coming Yule season: the spirit of generosity awakens, needy receive help. Unfortunately that spirit cannot be alive and bubbling all the year 'round. The habit of giving is one of the best tonics in the world for selfishness. It takes the "Scrooge" out of us.

COMPLAINT.—Recently a church member was heard to complain about the amount of money he had to contribute to his church. Yet, according to his pastor, his contribution, weekly, was only half what he and his family spent on the movies. Oh, he is a good man; no question. But it is easy to see where his interest is most active. Many church officials know of similar individuals.

QUARRELS.—A contemporary would like to get a "rise" out of us. But he never, never will. I have so much to do minding my own business that I cannot find time to enter into nasty controversies. So, my contemporary will just have to take himself out and bang away at himself; make himself mad, and unhappy. But, I can't complain about his viewpoint. It's his if he wants it. This is a free America. Strange thing, he's a pretty good fellow. One wonders why good fellows occasionally lapse into unkindness. But they do, unhappily, for them.

CAN IT BE?—Seems impossible that two men would get into a "ring" and brutally attack each other, trying to break necks, stomping on hands, hitting each other in sensitive spots. But it is so. Television seems to be catering to that sort of brutality, along with fights. Are the broadcasters wrong, or are we so much closer to raw animal nature that the practice of bestiality is the road to bigger sales of television equipment. I have seen bull fights that were tame compared to some of the things cheered by crowds in our country.

DEPRESSING.—History is depressing. It is depressing to those who would like to look at our country's future through rose-colored glasses because other nations of the past, reaching a peak, becoming callous to "nice" things, fell into brutal habits—and perished. With all the good forces doing all they can in the country, BRUTALITY is riding high, is gradually crushing the spirit that made America. Nations can become so great that they reduce themselves to smallness.

ACTS.—We often speak like saints and act like devils.

State Officer
Outlines Plans

Nem Lenox Business Men's association has undertaken to develop a public consciousness of the value of safety, and at the same time to give recognition to safety patrol boys of New Lenox.

In line with that program, the boys gathered with the Business Men last night, along with village officials, invited guests of the Business Men, to have a good dinner and talk about the problems involved in making a community traffic safe.

An official flavor was attached to the meeting by the presence of a state police officer, assigned to discuss with local authorities and citizens the various phases of a safety program.

Back of the banqueting and the recognition extended to the New Lenox patrol boys, was the thought, as expressed by one official, "that we want to bring to the attention of the people of our village the importance of safety, break up speeding and reckless driving, save the lives of our people, protect property, yet not have to be so drastic as to create the impression that New Lenox operates a speed trap."

It is, it was stated, the local population that must be impressed with the need for local safety, since speeding and reckless driving are not confined to those careless, selfish, or thoughtless "persons who speed through our village."

The state police officer in attendance was Sergeant Berlin, from Springfield assigned to explain safety programs and the enforcement of safety regulations.

Sergeant Berlin complimented the boys on the good work they are doing and pointed out that their work is highly important since, in addition to the immediate physical protection their work provides for the children, their work also inculcates respect for law and order.

The meeting and dinner were held in the basement of St. Jude's church, following the custom of the Business Men's group to alternate between the churches for their meetings.

Two Parties Honor
Miss Marion Sizer

Miss Marion Sizer, bride-to-be, was honored at a personal shower last Saturday evening, given by Mrs. Kenneth Tauber in her home in Mokena. The home decorations were in yellow, green and white. In the guessing games, prizes were won by Mrs. Frank Sizer and Miss Dorothy Westman. Duplicate prizes were given the honored guest. Many beautiful gifts were presented. Miss Sizer, dainty refreshments were served to the 20 guests.

Miss Violet Hurley and Donna Bueschel also entertained for Miss Sizer in the home of Mrs. Edith Karlsen Sunday afternoon. The hostesses presented Miss Sizer with an orchid corsage. American beauty and peacock blue, the chosen colors of the bride-to-be, decorated the home. Miss Peggie Rose and Mrs. Frank Sizer were awarded prizes in the games, with duplicate prizes given the honored guest. The gifts were lovely and numerous. Dainty refreshments were served, and the individual cakes were in the shape of a snow man. Twenty guests were present.

Miss Sizer will be married to Roy Ebert in St. John's Evangelical church Saturday evening, December 20, at 7:30 o'clock.

YULETIDE

Christmas is soon to be here. The pages of this newspaper are crowded to overflowing with news of things to buy for yourself and for others. Much to our regret, it has been necessary to omit some advertising—simply because we had nowhere to put it.

GREETINGS

Our friends are invited to say "Merry Christmas" through the time honored "cards" in these pages. Patrons will be glad to be greeted, as you always have done. WE ASK THAT COPY FOR CHRISTMAS GREETING CARDS reach the Tinley Park Times office, Tinley Park, or The News-Bulletin office, Mokena, not later than DECEMBER 19.

The Semmler Newspapers will be printed and distributed through the mails, including routes, on Wednesday, December 23. COPY FOR THE DECEMBER 25 (Christmas Day) issue MUST BE IN THE PRINTING OFFICE NOT LATER THAN SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20. We want our readers to have the paper on time, and please, WE WANNA GO HOME FOR CHRISTMAS, TOO.

Mrs. Kohlhausen Home

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Kohlhausen returned to their home in Frankfort Sunday from Chicago, where Mrs. Kohlhausen underwent an operation in St. Luke's hospital.

Guest Day

A guest day was held by three units of the Home Bureau organization, namely, The Green Garden, Busy Homemakers, and Frankfort-Mokena. The meeting was held in the Frankfort village hall with 30 members and 30 guests present.

The program started at 10:30 with Mrs. Arthur Nieland of the Green Garden unit and Mrs. George Elsner, of the Frankfort-Mokena unit in charge of recreation. Interesting games were played in which prizes were awarded to Mrs. Harry Miller and Mrs. W. V. Hedges.

Potluck dinner was served at noon and there was a large array of delicious food, enjoyed by guests and members alike.

The afternoon session was opened with a demonstration meeting with Mrs. Edwin Dralle, chairman of the Green Garden unit presiding. Mrs. Gilbert Voss of the Green Garden unit gave their secretary report: Mrs. Rudolph Soucie, of the Busy Homemakers, gave their treasurer's report, which included the report of their recent bakery sale held in Mokena, which netted them $45.

Roll was called by each unit secretary and answered by, "What I have learned in Home Bureau," or "Why I joined the Home Bureau." Each member answering also introduced her guests, which showed the Busy Homemakers had the most guests.

Mrs. Louis Holm of Frankfort-Mokena Unit, gave a demonstration of textile painting, which was very ably given and much enjoyed. Mrs. Lucille Castle, county chairman gave the major lesson on "Color in the home," which was most instructive.

Mrs. Moehl, of the Tuberculosis association of Joliet, spoke on that work; Mrs. Myrtle Goodwin, Wilmington, County Chairman and Mrs. Dorothy Krapf, Green Garden unit, vice county chairman, each explained the Home Bureau work, which in brief, is a sort of university education brought to the door of the busy homemaker.

Mrs. Carrie W. Bush

Mrs. Carrie Ward Bush, 72, widow of the late G. W. Bush, of Marley and Joliet, died at the home of a son, Homer Bush, in Joliet last Saturday night, December 6.

Mrs. Bush was known as the first woman newspaper editor in Will county, having been editor of the Wilmington Gazette half a century ago.

Survivors are three sons, Ralph and Homer Bush of Joliet and Ward Bush, and one daughter, Mrs. Alvin Nelson of Chicago.

Funeral services were held at the Sonntag Funeral home, Joliet, with the Rev. Ernest L. Snodgrass of Beverly Hills, former Marley church pastor, officiating. Burial was in Wilmington.

W. W. Loomis Dies

William Warren Loomis, of LaGrange, one of the best-known weekly newspaper publishers in Illinois, past president, National Editorial Association, publisher of the LaGrange Citizen and several other papers, died Monday night from a heart attack.

Funeral services are to be held this Thursday afternoon, 2 o'clock, at the Episcopal church in La Grange.

Ind. Man Dies
In Daughter's
New Lenox Home

Christopher C. Mulkins, 94, widely known Hoosier artist, died Wednesday of last week at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Charles Yuill, in New Lenox. He had suffered from a lingering illness.

Mr. Mulkins was born at Roanoke, Ind., and his life had been devoted to about the United States, Canada and St. Much of his work is distributed in Mexico. One of his best-known pieces of work was a painting of the late governor of Indiana, J. Frank Hanley, which was the governor's favorite portrait. He began his career as an artist painting historical scenes for individual and institutional art collections.

In addition to Mrs. Yuill, survivors are Mrs. Richard Ellis, of Hammond, Ind., four grandchildren, and 11 great grandchildren.

His body was shipped to the Lynch funeral home, Roanoke, Ind., Wednesday from the Edward Dames funeral home for services Thursday. Burial was in the Odd Fellows cemetery there.

Ice Skid Sends
Neighbor to Bed

A slip on the icy pavement Wednesday of last week put George Knudson of Front street, Mokena, in bed with torn ligaments in the back. It was thought that some of the ribs may have been fractured. Mr. Knudson is expected to be laid up for a brief spell. He is at home.

Within the folded seed God sees the flower, and in the will the deed.—Seekings.

ANTI-FREEZE SOLUTION SAID CAUSE
OF FIRE DESTROYING AUTOMOBILE

Fire caused, it was charged, by inflammable anti-freeze liquid in the radiator, early Sunday morning destroyed the Oldsmobile of Lee Guthrie of Mokena, on his way home from Joliet.

The fire started, apparently, when the petroleum-base anti-freeze had destroyed rubber hose on the motor. Within a flash, it was reported, the entire car was enveloped in flame.

On their way home from a meeting, Wilbur Mancke and Cy Radcliffe, of the Tinley Park firm bearing their names, stopped and gave assistance, which amounted to taking some of Mr. Guthrie's party to Mokena, while other motorists conveyed other members to their homes.

Traffic congestion resulted when drivers hesitated to try to pass the burning car, with flames licking out great distances and the possibility that the gasoline tank would explode.

Loss, Mr. Guthrie told the reporter for this paper, would amount to $800.

The anti-freeze solution was identified by Mr. Guthrie as being called "No-Freeze." His insurance man, he reported, told him, in connection with the loss, "Don't worry; we had five others last week from the same cause."

Post Office Open
On Yule Thursdays

Mokena post office will be open Thursday afternoons throughout the pre-Christmas season, Postmaster Margaret O'Brien announced this week. This is in cooperation with the public through the Christmas rush.

Thursday-afternoon closing will be resumed on January 8, Mrs. O'Brien stated.

SPORTSMAN F Homering
Frichau F Spiess

N. L. Garden Club
At Mrs. C. Ryden's

The New Lenox Garden Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carl Ryden with Mrs. Glenn Donaldson, cohostess, assisting. Dessert-coffee was served at 1:30, at a table attractively decorated with Christmas greens made by Mrs. Melvin Whitaker and Mrs. Ryden.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Whitaker took over the program for the day. Her subject was on Christmas decorations. Mrs. Donaldson, Mrs. Sheldon Hauck, and Mrs. Walter Hamilton received prizes in the Christmas contest, a novel door decoration made by Mrs. Lee Frey and Mrs. Whitaker going to Mrs. Donaldson for first prize. A gift exchange was enjoyed by the members.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. E. Martin, January 8, with Mrs. Stephen Sergeant as cohostess. Program chairman for the day will be Mrs. Dean Bright. Subject and speaker: "How to Make Corages," by Mrs. Oscar Laraway of Joliet.

Plays In Concert

Anita Geuther, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Geuther of Mokena, a student at the Joliet township high school, was first pianist at the concert given last Friday evening by the high school orchestra in the Joliet school auditorium.

N. L. Wins Three Games in A Row

The grade school basketball team won its third victory without a loss at Minoaka, Tuesday, December 2, beating Channahon by a score of 20 to 5. The second team won a tight preliminary game by a score of 12 to 10. The boys traveled to Orland Park for two games Wednesday, but the games were played too late to get the results for this issue of the paper.

Hunters Kill Homer
Man's Horse, Escape

Unknown persons shot and killed a work horse belonging to a Homer man last week. The horse was shot in the field of its owner's farm. The owner is Robert Shepherd.

The dead horse was discovered some hours after the killing. The hunters were unidentified, leaving without reporting what is believed to have been an accident.

FRANKFORT-NEW LENOX TPS.
TO TALK PLANS TUESDAY NIGHT

Schmuhl-Anderson

Miss Bernice Schmuhl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Schmuhl of Frankfort, and Warren Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Anderson of Chicago, were married in a double-ring ceremony at St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church, Frankfort, Saturday evening, December 7, at 7 o'clock. The Rev. Erich Bizer officiated.

The church was decorated in white chrysanthemums, ferns, and candles. Mrs. Bizer played the processional and recessional and accompanied Miss Katherine Lambrecht as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white satin with long train, with a long veil caught with a tiara of pearls; flowers were white mums; she wore three-strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Gladys Schmuhl, wearing American beauty taffetta, headband of rose mums; flowers were white and rose mums. Elaine Spiess, a cousin, of Mokena, wore green taffetta, headband of bronze mums, and flowers of the same.

Ushers were Wilbert Schmuhl, brother of the bride, and Lloyd Mathews of Frankfort.

The best man was Owen Davis of Chicago.

The flower girl, Betty Lou Kampe, wore white satin, headband of baby mums, white and carried a basket of rose buds, dropping the petals before the bride.

A reception followed in the church parlors for 100 guests. The bride's table was decorated in green and American beauty, with a three-tiered wedding cake centering the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left for a few days in Chicago, after which they will live with the bride's parents in Frankfort, where the groom is employed with Frankfort Grain Co.

Mrs. Tauber Hurt
In Joliet Crash

Mrs. Anthony Tauber, 52, of New Lenox, suffered contusions to her right leg Saturday when the automobile in which she was riding, driven by Mrs. Kenneth Tauber, Mokena, collided with a machine driven by Charles F. Parks, 400 Jessie street, at the corner of Chicago and Webster streets, Joliet.

Mrs. Tauber was taken to St. Joseph's hospital by police. In a report made to police, Mrs. Kenneth Tauber said that she had stopped at the intersection and did not see any automobiles so she started across Chicago street. She said she failed to see the Parks automobile in time to avert the collision.

Miss Sizer To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sizer of Mokena have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter Marion to Roy Ebert, Mokena, the wedding to take place at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, December 20, in St. John's Evangelical church, Mokena.

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held in St. Mary's hall for relatives and friends. Invitations will not be required, it was stated.

Lions To Take
Ladies Out
For Dinner

Ladies of the Lions club of Frankfort throughout the year share in activities of the club each month—that is, they feed their Lion husbands, take care of the dirty dishes, and do the chores incident to preparing and serving dinner to a group of hungry Lions.

But, with the coming of Christmas, Lions thought their hard-working and excellent dinner providing spouses should have one month off—and be served.

The upshot was a decision of the club to entertain wives of members at a dinner party at Hotel Louis Joliet on the regular December meeting night, Tuesday, December 16.

All School's Pupils Cast
In School Play

With the cast composed of every member of the student body, Mokena grade school will present a special Christmas program next Thursday, December 18.

The affair will center around an operetta called "Red Candles," and promises to be of panoramic proportions, with so large a cast.

Santa P. T. A. (or vice versa) will "do his stuff" at an appropriate time during the evening.

Starting time: 8 p. m. School will close its doors for two weeks at the end of the day Friday, the 19th.

In each succeeding year it more clearly appears that our democratic principle needs no apology.—Grover Cleveland.

Mr. Oster Urges
Big Attendance

Whether the recommendation of the Will county school Survey committee recommendation, as published in last week's News-Bulletin, shall be accepted in its final form will be discussed at a meeting set for the New Lenox grade school building Tuesday evening, December 16.

This meeting, according to the committee and Principal John Oster of the New Lenox school, is not only to be the only meeting to be held in New Lenox and Frankfort townships, but it is the only opportunity the public will have to express its opinions concerning the redistricting program.

Under the plan as outlined on this page last week, all schools in the two townships would be consolidated into one central school, including grade and high schools.

Mr. Oster declared that from the standpoint of education, the decision to be made is one of the most important made in 100 years, and the decisions resulting from the survey and from the meeting on the 16th will have influence down through time for the next 100 to 150 years.

The committee has urged wide attendance at the meeting, since it is of the utmost importance to the public, who will bear the cost, to make up its mind with full knowledge of the circumstances, and be able to vote intelligently when the subject comes before the electorate.

Another factor emphasized by Principal Oster is that if we do not reorganize our schools, the legislature will do it for us. And, he emphasized, we probably would not like the legislative plan.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock in the evening of next Tuesday, December 16, in the New Lenox school building.

Mokena Pupils
On Radio Program

Pupils of the first four grades of Mokena school went visiting in Chicago last Thursday by chartered bus, to participate in the WLS "School Time" visiting day program. They were accompanied by Mrs. Mary Kraus, teacher of the first and second grade, Mrs. R. Smith, teacher of the third and fourth grades; and the following mothers: Mrs. Milton Guether, chairman of PTA Recreation, Mrs. Winton Hamilton, president of the P.T.A.; Mrs. J. H. Schultz, Mrs. Fred W. Guendling, Mrs. Evert Benson, Mrs. R. Knacknusch, Mrs. Gerry Swart, Mrs. Harold Jones, and Mrs. Phillip Hacker.

The children took their lunches and "camped" in one of the studios, where Rex Allen, the cowboy singer of National Barn Dance fame, and Jack Holden, chief WLS announcer, periodically dropped in to beg a sandwich or piece of cake. On the School Time program at 1:15 p. m. they were welcomed by Mrs. Josephine Wetzel, WLS director of education. Marilyn Cooper, Jimmy Cooper, Marilyn Boleman, and Ronald Knacknusch, were heard on the air, telling about their school. Staff members of WLS reported it was fun having such a lively visiting day, and the choruses of good-byes the children sang out as they left brought a merry conclusion to a delightful occasion.

Pictures of the children will be published on this page next week.

Mail Yule Cards,
And Packages Now

The local post office is now handling nearly double the normal amount of mail. Postmaster Margaret O'Brien asked that Mokena folks begin mailing their Christmas cards and packages at once. All out of state mail should be mailed by this Thursday and local mail by the 15th.

Frankfort and New Lenox post offices likewise are burdened with extra loads.

The postmaster said packages weighing up to 70 pounds and measuring up to 100 inches in length and girth combined may be sent thru the mails. Senders should wrap their parcels carefully and then inclose wrapped parcels in heavy outer paper. The package should be tied securely with heavy twine, addresses should be printed or written legibly, preferably in ink. Return addresses should be written with equal care. Incomplete addresses or careless wrapping on parcels may be responsible for many folks not receiving their Christmas gifts in time for December 25.

Many Christmas gifts will be delivered by air mail. Everyone knows for five cents a letter can be sent by air to anywhere in the United States, Hawaii, Alaska, Canada, and Mexico, but how many realize a parcel weighing one pound can be sent for 80 cents?

These pound air mail packages receive the same preferred service through the post office and by the airlines as is now given the air mail letters.

NEW WEAPON AGAINST CANCER... Latest development in Kentucky's campaign against cancer is acquisition of this mobile detection bus. Dr. Ellis Duncan, medical director, and nurse are shown here welcoming three girls referred to them for examination.

ON HEALTH FRONT

Mobile Detection Bus to Aid
Kentucky's Fight on Cancer

WNU Features.

The farmer's wife with the lump in her breast, the village store clerk whose voice has dwindled to a hoarse whisper—no longer need they go without examination for months and live in the fear that they may have cancer.

A new weapon, forged by the Kentucky division of American Cancer society with the aid of General Electric X-Ray corporation, has made it possible for people in outlying areas, where doctors and x-ray facilities are few,
to receive first-class medical examination for cancer without the cost and difficulty of traveling great distances. This weapon is the first mobile cancer detection bus ever to be equipped with x-ray apparatus.

Modeled after buses now used for x-ray surveys of apparently healthy persons in TB campaigns, the cancer bus, known officially as the "Cancer Mobile," will carry x-ray into the by-ways of Kentucky, acting as an "extension arm" of the state's widespread network of 16 cancer clinics.

Aid Rural Areas.

The unit, however, will not be used for mass survey work as this would be economically impossible.
But it will permit bringing detection facilities to thousands who otherwise might succumb to the nation's
No. 2 killer.

Primary purpose of the unit
is to provide free examination for suspected cases among those unable to pay. In addition, doctors who do not have x-ray facilities also may use the apparatus in the bus for their private patients.

Kentucky physicians are supporting the unit enthusiastically and have volunteered their services
without charge for the examination of indigents.

The unit was purchased for the Kentucky cancer group by young women of the Louisville Junior league, who also have offered to go out with the unit in teams to take case histories and assist in handling patients. Only cost to the cancer society is for services of the medical director, Dr. Ellis Duncan, and his technician.

To insure fullest utilization of the bus and other diagnostic facilities, the cancer organization has under way an intensive program of education. This is designed to increase the public's awareness of warning symptoms and to stress the importance of routine periodic medical examinations.

Stress Lay Education.

The bus will go only to counties
which extend a formal invitation through their county medical societies. After arrangements have been made to have the unit come to a particular county, members of the medical society and other groups will be asked to volunteer assistance at the diagnostic clinic to be held in the bus.

While the unit is in the county,
educational programs on cancer
control will be presented to lay groups.

Acquisition of the bus is the latest of many steps taken by Kentucky in its battle against this dread disease. The first state to have 100 per cent organization of all counties for fundraising, Kentucky also is credited with sponsoring frequent cancer detection and treatment clinics and with promoting an educational program reaching down to grade school children.

Because of the large proportion of volunteer work done, administrative costs of the Kentucky cancer program have been held down to only 3 per cent.

The bus is of sturdy construction,
designed specifically for the complete coverage of the state over roads of all types. It is equipped with fluorescent lighting, ventilating fan, electric heater, shockproof cables, vibration dampers for the x-ray tube, lead-lined partitions to protect personnel against radiation, work benches and water storage tanks.

Woman Invades Blacksmith Field

BIRNAMWOOD, WIS. — Invading
a field traditionally reserved for men, Mrs. Edwin Mierkey is an active partner in a husband and wife traveling blacksmith team.

She is not just an ornamental attraction taken along to add glamour around the portable forge, but a hard-working, practical partner for her husband in his work of horse-shoeing, welding and harness repairing.

Mierkey, who puts on from 18 to 24 shoes every working day, does the calking, fitting, nailing and clenching, while his wife hands him
the right tool at the right time. She also keeps a steady fire in the forge without wasting coal or burning the shoes.

Mrs. Mierkey never does the actual horse-shoeing, but she feels confident that she could if anything should happen to her husband.

Honest Citizens
Outdo Honesty

VIROQUA, WIS. — Even honesty can be outdone, a recent incident here indicates.

Berlie Moore, Vernon county employee, was on his way to the bank with a roll of bills bound with a rubber band when the band suddenly snapped and the money whirled down the street.

Passersby rounded up the bills and returned them to Moore. He counted the roll and it totaled $1,150. He had started out with $1,147.

Rural Blood Bank
Follows Pattern
Of Pioneer Days

FAIRPLAY, COLO. — In an attempt to guard against sudden emergencies in which outside help might come too late, residents of Park county are organizing their own "walking blood bank."

In a modern application of the rural neighbor-help-neighbor tradition which dates back to pioneer days, residents of the scattered, frequently isolated communities of the county will have their blood typed and recorded to qualify them for service as potential donors.

Demand for blood is not great enough to warrant a regular bank with typed blood kept on hand in sterile containers. Yet in distant corners of the county, particularly when roads are snow-blocked in winter time, sudden emergencies
frequently arise.

Then it's too late to get blood
from Denver; too late to call for volunteers and type their blood. But if prospective donors — neighbors, friends and relatives
— are already typed, a card index provides the key to a "walking blood bank" on which a doctor can draw quickly.

Promoting the project are Dr.
Robert Patterson of Fairplay, who learned the value of blood transfusions while in military service; the American Legion post and county commissioners. The Belle Bonfils memorial blood bank of Denver and the state health department are cooperating in the venture.

Among the county's 2,500 residents, about 1,000 are of donor age and about 500 of them are expected to qualify as prospective donors.

Farmers Prefer Old
Thrashing Machine

ROCHESTER, MINN. — Modern
machinery, in the form of the heavily-puffing, steady-powered steam thrashing rigs of today, holds no lure for a group of progressive farmers in this rich farming community.

Instead, they prefer to stick to a 31-year-old steam thrasher which, they insist, will stack up for speed and performance against any of the present-day models.

Christopher Groen, engineer who has worked on the rig for 10 years, says the hazards which largely brought about new methods of thrashing do not exist "when you stay on the job and tend to your business."

The old-time outfit is owned by a cooperative unit organized 31 years ago. W. C. Dickinson, present chairman, has been a member of the group for 30 years.

SCRIPTURE: Revelation 1-7; Acts 16:16-40; 1 Peter 4:12-19; 5:6, 7.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Revelation
3:7-13.

Courageous Loyalty

Lesson for December 14, 1947

OPEN your Bible to Revelation, and read the first seven chapters. Then you will be ready for Acts 16:16-40, and 1 Peter 4:12-19,
and 5:6, 7. These

Scriptures form the basis of a study for Sunday on Loyalty
Under Persecution.

Christians are not promised an easy
time, but they are assured sufficient grace for every time of need. This lesson, if carefully
pondered, will fortify one's faith and send us forth renewed in courage and Christian poise for these days of discipleship.

How a Song Helped

"HUMBLE yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time; casting all your care upon him, for he careth for you." 1 Peter 5:6, 7. That is a splendid watchword for every boy and girl.

Now, turn to Acts 16:16-30, and see how Paul and Silas, locked in the inner dungeon at midnight, could pray and sing. That is what happens to the Christian who sincerely trusts in God—who acts on the promise that God really cares
for his trusting children.

A memory verse suggested for Sunday is found in Proverbs 17:22,
and it goes like this: "A cheerful heart is a good medicine."

Have you watched some Christian in affliction—how he or she could bless every passerby? It was because that person possessed the "cheerful heart." And each of us may have that precious possession, if we remember Mark 11:22, "Have faith in God."

Happy Behind Prison Bars

PAUL and Silas are pictured as happy in that dark dungeon.
There is a statement to challenge
every cynic, every doubting Thomas. Only the grace of God can make men happy under persecution. Paul declares in Romans 1:16, "I am not ashamed of the Gospel." Aye, he was not ashamed to preach the Gospel to the little damsel on the streets of Jerusalem, nor was he ashamed to go to the prison for the sake of the Gospel.

Best of all, Paul and Silas were sustained in their sorrowful plight
by the consciousness that God was with them—that he always keeps his word.

I venture the prediction that the fortitude of Paul and Silas in that night of persecution did more to impress the Christian religion upon Jerusalem than any sermon even the eloquent Paul ever uttered. We, too, can witness for Christ as we face difficult situations.

Courageous Loyalty

LOOK now at Revelation 2:8-11, and 3:14-22, for the example of the church at Smyrna, burdened by tribulation and poverty, but "rich"
in the promise that a crown of life awaited them.

It was far more difficult to be a Christian in the first century than it is in the twentieth century. By which I mean that the early Christians were few in number and without any backing of public opinion. They were despised as the lowly followers of the crucified carpenter of Nazareth. Today, Christians are acknowledged as the best citizens in every community.

Even so, there are tests for us—
tests that will be too much for human courage and loyalty. If we are true to the teachings of Jesus as they relate to everyday life, we shall need that same endowment which the Christians at Smyrna possessed, else our discipleship will shame the name of our Lord.

The Blood of the Lamb

THE lesson concludes with that dramatic passage in Revelation 7:9-17, in which we behold the great white-robed throng about the throne of God, singing, "Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honor and power and might be unto our God forever and ever. Amen."

Who were they? "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."

Loyalty under persecution is dependent absolutely upon the life-giving power of the blood of the Lamb.

"Fear not, I am with thee, O be not dismayed
For I am thy God, and will still give thee aid."

You KNOW this isn't safe . . .

And neither is defective wiring!

YOU wouldn't think of giving a child a loaded gun for a plaything. But you may have electrical appliances in your home that are equally dangerous. You can't always see the defective wiring in lamps, toasters, irons, or grills—the danger may lie in faulty inside wiring.

Be sure that appliances you buy are top quality. Have a qualified electrician check the appliances and electric cords in your home today. When you see a frayed extension cord—discard it and replace it with a new one of good quality. Watch for broken sockets and wall plugs. Have an electrician inspect your appliances—be on the alert yourself—and be safe!

This advertisement presented in the interest of safety and as a contribution to the NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL'S nationwide accident prevention campaign.

You demand It

Industry depends on It

The Nation must have It

What is IT?

"adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation"

FROM THE OFFICIAL REPORT of the Interstate Commerce Commission on awarding a temporary freight rate increase of 10%, we quote:

"The law requires us to give due consideration, among other factors, to the need of revenue sufficient to enable the carriers under honest, economic, and efficient management to provide adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation..."

A moment's thought should convince any fair-minded person that keeping the American railroads healthy is to everybody's advantage.

Every family, every businessman, even the Nation itself is in danger when this vital artery of American life is weakened.

And that threat is real, and it is now. For with increases in the cost of railroad operation piling up one atop another, how can the railroads' multimillion dollar program for desperately needed new equipment be continued? How can improvements in roadbeds, yards, stations, rolling stock, which took a merciless beating in the war years of peak traffic, be carried through?

They can't... UNLESS—

Unless the railroads are granted freight rates adequate to meet the wage and materials cost increases, and at the same time keep hundreds of American industries busy with new machinery and equipment orders.

Government requires that the railroads maintain a high standard of efficiency because You demand it, Industry depends on it, and the Nation must have it.

We are asking a permanent freight rate increase of the absolute minimum to meet our need—which is in every sense your need.

Our request should be granted.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Turrible, Turrible, Turrible!"

Ben Ryder is back! After twenty years in Capital City, Ben has retired and come to enjoy life in the family house on Maple Street.

First thing Ben does is write us complaining how Our Town has changed. "Why, there's no mud in the streets to sink up to your ankles in!" he says. "No pistol feuding in the town square! No moonshine liquor or Saturday night brawls! Nothing to do but settle for a temperate glass of beer in a law-abiding tavern!"

"Turrible, turrible, turrible," Ben says, "how a town can get run down in twenty years!" And then Ben takes his tongue out of his cheek and tells us how proud he is of the orderly, law-abiding atmosphere he finds here.

And from where I sit, you can point to that growling preference for a moderate, wholesome glass of beer as one reason folks in Our Town are so temperate, and neighborly and well-behaved.

Miller opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Albert Schmuhl, president, conducted the business meeting and asked members of the older group to donate baked goods or candy for the young group sale to be held Saturday, December 13, in O'Daniel's drug store. Mrs. Ralph Miller led the devotions. There was a missionary exhibit from various parts of the world. A program was presented on the order of a radio program, with Christmas carols. you can afford a BENDIX!"*

("... and I'll put a Bendix Gift Certificate in her Christmas stocking!")

No need for mistletoe at your house if you present your leading lady with a Bendix!

No need to torpedo the family budget either... because the Bendix costs as much as $90 less than other fully automatic washers. What's more, it costs far less to operate than old-fashioned washers. Its savings on soap alone pay you back about $10 a year. Uses gallons less hot water.

Give her the only washer which has proved in ten whole years of trouble-free service, that it can wash, triple-rinse and damp-dry the wash, automatically.

Here's all you do—Tell your Bendix Dealer you want to give a Bendix Washer for Christmas. He'll arrange the terms and fill out a Gift Certificate you can hang on the tree.

Hunting Wild Animals With Helicopter, Siren

An expedition now preparing to visit Africa to record the habits and sounds of wild animals in motion pictures and on recording machines has equipped its helicopter with a novel weapon of defense, a high-pitched siren called a Shriek-Gun, says Collier's.

Its sound has no effect on the men if they plug up their ears, but will terrify and drive away any beast that attempts to attack the craft when it is poised near the ground.

VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS . . . Santa Claus (Carl A. Gebhard) paid an unexpected visit to five-year-old Peggy Bennett of Titusville, N. J., who is losing her eyesight. A tree all dressed up with Christmas decorations was the main feature of a party given the sick child when physicians said they feared Peggy would be blind by Christmas. Some Helpful Ideas
For Homemade Rugs

LOOKING for a hobby this winter? Why not take up rug-making. It's one of the most rewarding things you can do and without costly equipment or material! And best of all, you don't need to have great artistic talent. Anyone—even beginners—can make a lovely rug at home.

There are many types to choose from. Hooked, braided, knitted, crocheted, tufted, woven. All of them can add an individual note to your home.

Braided and woven rugs lend a cozy air before the fireplace or next to your bed. Navajo rugs with Indian designs are perfect for a child's room and, if you have Early American furniture, flowered hooked rugs are particularly suitable.

Materials needed cost you anything more than a quick trip to the rag bag. Old sacking, coarse linen, strips cut from discarded clothing, blankets and sheets plus dye for the colors you choose are all you need.

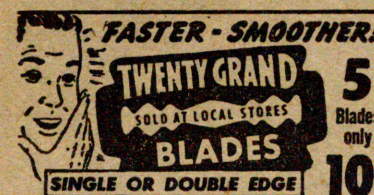

Send for our booklet No. 94 which describes in detail the methods for each type of rug. How to make a loom yourself, sample patterns and otherwise helpful suggestions.

Send 25 cents in coin for "New Ideas For Homemade Rugs" to Weekly Newspaper Service, 243 West 17th Street, New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address with zone, booklet title and No. 94.

SAVAGELY, old Adam Courtney twisted his cigar-yellowed moustache. From the parlor sofa, the muffled sobs of Diana, his shapely and lovely young daughter, expressed an unshakable defiance. He glared at her with all the anger a deep love would permit.

"I—I AM going to marry Jim Bailey," she chanted monotonously. "I don't care if he HASN'T got the money he ought to have to start in business. I don't care if he HAS only—three thousand instead of six." The slender legs kicked hysterically. A slipper flew across the room. "I LOVE him, doggone him! I LOVE him!"

Grimly, Adam Courtney went for his hat and his heavy cane. Grimly he left the house. He knew where to find Jim Bailey. Barred from calling on Diana, he would be waiting at the club—the big social and athletic club—for her to join him for the dance tonight.

In the old days on the West Coast, he thought angrily, a matter such as this might have been settled with a .45. Now business and money and convention had overtaken him—after his marriage, late in life.

Diana was all he had, since the young wife he adored had died in childbirth. Ever since that day, his only child had been his only interest, taking the place of her mother before her. Never before this had she defied him, turned from his love to the love of someone else. As things stood tonight, however, he had lost her—unless somehow he could hold her back.

Surely this called for desperate measures. As he stalked into the club, he spied the ruddy, muscular young object of his quest. In the black and white of dinner clothes, Jim Bailey sat watching a game in the busy card room. Jim rose, and the table fell silent, as the grim old man came up.

"Jim Bailey," Adam Courtney thundered, "are you man enough to take a gamble?"

Jim Bailey simply stared. "I understand you have three thousand in the savings bank," old Courtney said. "I'll put up two dollars to every one of yours. Give you two to one on every bet. Six thousand to three thousand, table stakes. If you lose—you will agree to leave my daughter alone."

"And what if I win?" asked Jim Bailey.

"Win?" Adam Courtney's bony face paled. "Win—you marry her, sir, of course."

Jim Bailey hesitated, and the whole room stopped breathing. Everybody understood the struggle that had been going on between him and Diana, on the one hand, and Diana's father on the other. Under ordinary circumstances, no one would expect him to agree to risk losing his money and his hope of future happiness on the turn of a card. But suddenly it had dawned on everybody that this situation was not ordinary.

Only two weeks before, the old man had caned a newspaper editor who had intimated that Adam Courtney, in the old days on the Coast, had been a professional gambler. No one believed a word of the accusation. But now, to refuse publicly to play would tell the world who believed what the editor had written, and were afraid of being rooked.

Jim Bailey wet his lips. "Do you want to play with chips, sir, or cash?—but even money!"

The money in Jim's hand told her the rest. She ran to her father. The grim old man ignored her.

"Cash!" said Adam Courtney grimly.

Next evening, each bearing his stake of three thousand dollars, they took their seats in the card room.

"Draw poker," announced Adam Courtney, tearing open the pack. "Table stakes. And," he leaned across the table and looked Jim Bailey in the eye, "a gentleman's agreement!"

"Okay," Jim Bailey said. "Will you cut, sir?"

Open gambling was not permitted in the club. But what employee would dare stop this? Like wildfire the news spread. Members hurried in just in time to see the old man lose five hundred dollars on a full house, against Jim Bailey's four tens.

At first, luck seemed to favor Jim Bailey. But presently the calm, grim old man began to win.

Then the old man lost three large bets. The stacks of money stood about even again—each three thousand dollars.

Jim Bailey dealt. Adam Courtney looked at his cards. He counted out five hundred dollars. Jim Bailey looked at his cards. Without hesitation, he pushed an equal amount forward.

Then each drew cards. Jim Bailey held up three cards and drew two. Adam Courtney asked for but one. The old man looked at the card. Quickly he pushed forward his whole remaining pile.

THE spectators glanced at one another. Some thought they had glimpsed the two hands. To start with, as they afterward explained, Jim Bailey had held three aces, Adam Courtney three kings. On the draw it seemed that Jim, with three aces pat, had caught two queens. Thus he had the highest possible full-house on this deal. But the old man had caught another king, and held four—the winning hand.

Would Jim Bailey put up his whole

pile and call the old man's bet? If he did, the game was over. He would lose his money, and Diana, too.

Jim Bailey's hand shook as he rifled his remaining pile. Since the old man hardly had held four-of-a-kind to start with, and had drawn but one card, the odds were forty to one against his now having four-of-a-kind or better. Suddenly, his face no longer ruddy, Jim Bailey pushed his whole pile forward.

"I call, sir," he said. He spread out his hand. "I've got a full-house—aces over queens."

Then occurred one of those disturbing interruptions which explain the new screens at the card room door. There was a cry and a commotion, and Diana, Adam Courtney's daughter, appeared in the doorway, staring in at the players.

She was dressed to go to the dance. Her hair was arranged in the style of twenty years ago. In a white satin dress which had belonged to her mother, she looked (as an elderly member said) the spitting image of Adam Courtney's dead wife.

Old Adam Courtney glanced up, stared, as at a ghost. Heaven only knows what memory—perhaps of his and his wife's glowing early happiness—passed through his mind. He drew a deep, slow breath. His cane dropped and clattered. His white head disappeared beneath the table as he retrieved the cane from the floor.

This distraction lasted but a moment. Then Adam Courtney sat up and faced Jim Bailey. Leaning awkwardly forward, his left hand heavy on the table, the old man turned his own cards up, one by one.

THE KING OF DIAMONDS. "One!" the crowd breathed. THE KING OF HEARTS. "Two!" the crowd whispered. THE KING OF CLUBS. "Three!" the crowd murmured. Then he turned—THE QUEEN OF DIAMONDS.

It was his last card.

Not only had he failed to catch the king of spades on the draw, apparently he had drawn but one card, when he should have drawn two. He held only four cards, a worthless hand.

The grim old man had lost! Jim Bailey had won, not only the old man's three thousand, but his daughter.

Jim Bailey gathered in all the money. He stood up, holding it in his hand. Everyone watched Adam Courtney's daughter as Jim Bailey crossed to where she stood framed in the doorway.

She touched Jim's arm—and hesitated. Of course she had been told what was up. The money in Jim's hand told her the rest. She ran to her father. The grim old man ignored her. She put her arm around him and kissed him full on the yellow stain in his white moustache. He still ignored her. She turned and ran back to Jim.

Hand in hand, the two young people left the club. Their motor roared away, seemingly with a triumphant note that spoke of money enough for a business, and for marriage, and independence.

Old Adam Courtney sat staring at his bony left hand flat on the table. For a moment his shoulders seemed to sag. Then he straightened, and tilted a quizzical, twinkling look up at the circle of staring faces.

"I knew what she was wishing," he said. "I'm an old fool, I expect." He lifted his left hand. There beneath it, face up on the table, lay the missing king of spades.

TOP LEADERS TO LEAD JOLIET AGRICULTURE-INDUSTRY MEET

Agriculture and industry will each have a top-ranking spokesman at the regional agriculture-industry conference in Elks ballroom, Joliet, December 12.

Ray B. Wiser, president, California Farm Bureau Federation, and Clifford F. Hood, president, American Steel and Wire Company, recognized as "top men" in their fields who know what they are talking about.

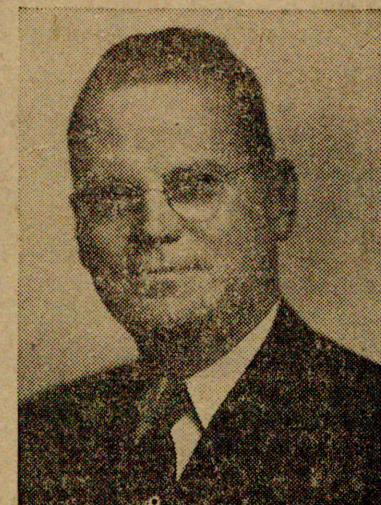

This is the 19th regional agriculture-industry conference in a series started

Monmouth, Ill. in 1894, attended school at Galesburg before entering the University of Illinois to study electrical engineering.

Graduating in 1915, Hood became sales engineer and assistant cable sales manager for Packard Electric at Warren, Ohio. Two years later, he joined American Steel and Wire Co. as an operating clerk at Worcester, Mass. Within a few months, Hood entered the army and served through World War I in a coast artillery unit in France.

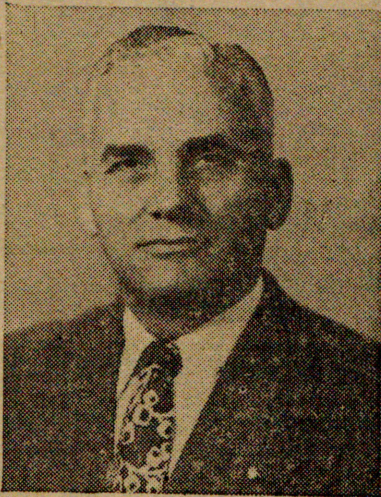

Returning in 1919, he became foreman of the electric cable department in South Works of American Steel and Wire at Worcester. In 1925, he was made assistant plant superintendent. His rise from then on was rapid. He was made works superintendent in 1928, assistant manager of Worcester district operations in 1932, and operations manager in 1933. In 1935, he was transferred to the company's Cleveland headquarters as vice president of operations. By 1938 he was president of the company, and a director of the United States Steel Corp., parent company of American Steel and Wire.

The two Illinois businessmen who will join Wiser and Hood in a panel discussion following the main addresses are Joliet residents. They are Arthur C. States, Joliet, farmer and former director of the Illinois Agricultural association, and George H. Johnson, general manager, American Institute of Laundering, Inc. President Frank W. Jenks, Chicago, of the state chamber, will speak on behalf of the organization.

Tax Refunds Made To Battle Dead

Income tax refunds are being made to next of kin of men who died while on active duty during World War II.

Public Law 367 of the 80th Congress provides that income tax for those dying in service between December 7, 1941, and January 1, 1948, shall not be assessed for the taxable year of death or for previous years in service.

In addition, the new law sets forth that if taxes were paid by a serviceman during the two dates mentioned, the next of kin may file for a refund. Filing must be accomplished before January 1, 1949. Heretofore income taxes for years of war service prior to death were forgiven if not paid, but if paid, could not be refunded.

Service officer Stanley B. Hill of the Illinois Veterans' Commission of office families of deceased servicemen in determining eligibility and filing of tice in Cook county will assist and applications for refunds.

Three Youngsters Have Appendectomies

Appendectomies seem popular among the very young in Frankfort, with three little tots undergoing operations within a few days. Last Friday evening, Albert III, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krusemark, Jr., had an emergency operation. Then, on Saturday evening, Charles Otto, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Otto, had to be rushed to the hospital. The third emergency operation for the same cause came Tuesday morning, when Mary Ann, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heiser was taken to Silver Cross, where the other two had been taken. All reported doing all right.

Eventually

It looks now as if people who go outdoors must soon begin to count that day lost when they are not killed by someone in an automobile.—The Yakima Daily Republican.
